

Create a New Project

Open iMovie from the Applications Folder or the Dock at the bottom of your computer screen.

Note: If this is the first time you open iMovie, there will not be any previous movies for you to see in the Project Library. If you have already created a movie prior to this workshop, you might see the old project in the Project Library.

When iMovie opens, under File in the Menu Bar, click on New Project.

Enter a name for project in the Project Name Window.

Important: For this workshop, we are going to keep it simple and leave the Aspect Ratio as is (Widescreen(16:9)), Theme = None, and leave unchecked the box in front of “Automatically add ...” These are automatic formats you can try out the next time you create a project.

Click Create.

In the Project Library, you will see at the top of the window, the name you entered.
